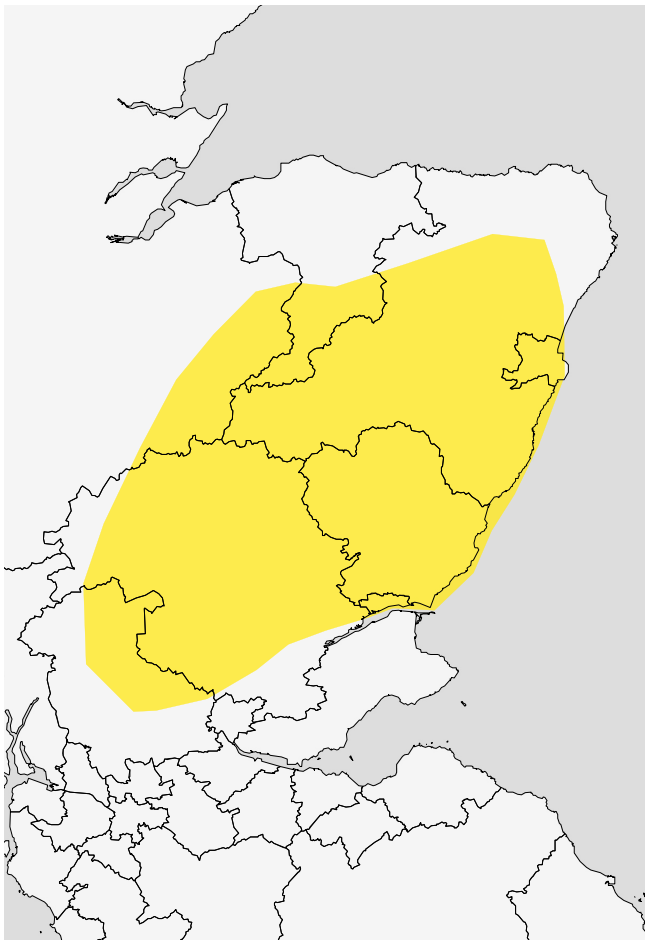
06:00 Thu 19 Oct 2023 and
23:59 Sat 21 Oct 2023



There is a chance of extremely heavy rain from Thursday to Saturday causing flooding and disruption across central and eastern Scotland

What to expect

- There is a small chance of extensive flooding to homes and businesses which may lead to collapse or damage to buildings or structures
- There is a small chance that communities could be completely cut off, perhaps for several days
- There is a small chance of fast flowing or deep floodwater, causing a danger to life
- There is a slight chance that power and other essential services, such as gas, water and mobile phone service will be lost
- Where flooding occurs, road closures are likely, along with bus and train service delays and cancellations
- Dangerous driving conditions could occur because of spray and flooded roads

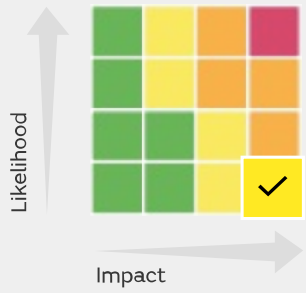
Further details

Whilst there is still significant uncertainty in the timing and duration of rain through the second half of the coming week, there is potential for disruptive, heavy and prolonged rainfall to affect central and eastern Scotland. The heaviest rainfall is more likely to occur over Angus and southeast Grampian, although even lower lying areas could see unusually heavy rainfall during this period. Strong southeasterly winds are likely to accompany heavy rainfall which may exacerbate impacts.



Very low likelihood of high impacts
